MiCAFE

MiCAFE or Michigan's Coordinated Access to Food for the Elderly Program helps seniors get food. MiCAFE can sign you up for a Bridge Card and teach you about healthy eating and food programs. MiCAFE is at senior centers, churches, apartments, and other places near you.

Through MiCAFE, the Food Assistance Program gives seniors money each month to buy food. This money comes on a Bridge Card (like a credit card). You can use the Bridge Card at most grocery stores to buy fruit, meat, vegetables, milk, bread, and other foods. To get a Bridge Card a senior will likely have a low income and high costs of living.
